VNC partners with Cynapse for Exclusive Distribution of Cyn.in across EMEA To Drive Open Source Enterprise 2.0 Initiatives

VNC announces exclusive distribution partnership with Cynapse to promote sales and marketing support for the open source enterprise 2.0 software Cyn.in in the EMEA Markets.

TUE, FEBRUARY 9, 2010 – WILMINGTON, DE – ZUG, SWITZERLAND: Virtual Network Consult GmbH (VNC), a leading Value Added Distributor for Commercial Open Source & Cloud Solutions, today announced a partnership with Cynapse, a provider of open source Enterprise 2.0 software for small, medium and large organizations, to deliver its product Cyn.in in the Europe, Middle East and Africa markets.

Already in use by thousands of organizations globally, Cyn.in helps companies to overcome challenges associated with collaboration by providing an easy to use, affordable, multilingual Intranet that meets the emergent needs of enterprises. The commercial editions let companies harness key ingredients of Web 2.0 to suit their business objectives resulting in an always current, self healing, knowledge repository that captures the company's intellectual capital and strengthens workplace community.

VNC, a top-ranked value added distributor, as part of this partnership will proactively expand the partner ecosystem and provide marketing support to drive demand for Cyn.in in the EMEA markets.

"This partnership represents Cynapse's commitment to its strategy of adding strong global partners to expand Cynapse's market presence worldwide. VNC has the best partner channel in the industry with a distinct understanding of customer requirements in their regions. Given VNC's broad geographic footprint plus its ability to expand into emerging markets, Cynapse's partnership with VNC will provide many more potential customers with powerful, easy to use collaboration software", said Viraf Sarkari, COO of Cynapse.

Cynapse and VNC will immediately begin to jointly market Cyn.in, while leveraging each other's expertise in their respective marketplaces.

Andrea Wörrlein, CEO of VNC stated, "We are very excited about our partnership with Cynapse and about promoting Cyn.in to our channel partners and their customers in the EMEA markets. We are convinced that Cyn.in is a perfect fit regarding our focus on Commercial Open Source & Cloud Solutions. We are convinced that Cyn.in will find a huge potential in our target area and will experience tremendous growth in the near future."
